To Whom It May Concern:

My husband and I hired Sasha Ziburdaeva, who is part of a duo, to play at our wedding on June 3, 2006. Our wedding was held in a big church in Camden, Maine. Camden is a picturesque coastal town that overlooks a harbor full of both fishing and luxury boats. In fact, there are stories, paintings and pictures taken of Camden that can be found in many mediums throughout the world.

Because it was a coastal setting with a beautiful view, I wanted the perfect outdoor wedding. Unfortunately, it rained as hard as I've ever seen it rain the entire day. Even though having to ask musicians to change from an outdoor setting to an indoor setting at the last moment might have put some artists into a crisis mode, Sasha changed venues and made adjustments with the utmost of ease. I was already frazzled as many other things needed to be changed so it was a welcome relief to have someone that was calm and accommodating take care of such a big part of our wedding as the ceremony music.

Sasha and her partner Laura Gallucci are truly gifted musicians and exceeded our expectations. Their music added refinement, grace, distinction and beauty to our wedding ceremony. Their superb and flawless talent really enhanced the atmosphere and made the ceremony more moving and lovely. They played a beautiful duet that brought tears to many eyes. They both were also professional, on time, and prepared. I received many positive comments on the wedding ceremony music from both my wedding party and our guests. Their music and professionalism were outstanding. I would definitely hire Sasha again without question and recommend her with the strongest words I have.

Thank you Sasha for making our day so wonderful! The music you played was perfect and started us off on the absolute perfect note.

Sincerely,

Ashlee MacDonald
